Primary School to Secondary School

Starting Secondary School is an important milestone for a young person that comes with a range of emotions and concerns. The key to a successful transition into secondary school is planning, preparation and promoting a positive attitude. To facilitate this process IELLEN will be offering workshops for parents of children starting Year 7 in 2011. The workshops will explore the concerns experienced by many children about to start secondary school and how parents can support their child through this key transition phase.

The workshops will be held on:

Monday 26th July at
2.00pm - 3.30pm (Horace Petty Estate)
6.30pm - 8.00pm (Middle Park Primary School)

Tuesday 27th July at 6.30pm - 8.00pm (Kew High School)
*See booking form for address details

To register your attendance please complete the attached booking form and return to Karen Riding by Wednesday 14th July 2010
*Bookings are essential as numbers are limited

Parents will learn practical strategies and valuable tips to promote a positive attitude about the transition to secondary school and support their children to:

• prepare for the new learning environment and expectations
• manage the increased school workload
• successfully balance their school, sporting and social life.
• understand how to study and their learning style

ALL ARE WELCOME

The workshops are available to ALL parents of students commencing Year 7 in 2011 from the Inner Melbourne region, not only parents of students that attend the host school or venue.
