“Gender Inclusiveness and Respectful Relationships”

Dear Parents,

On Tuesday, May 2nd at 7pm we will be holding an information evening for parents around the very important social issue of gender inclusiveness and respectful relationships, which is an essential element for all our families.

This is an issue that can affect every community, regardless of their social or financial status.

Our guest presenters for the evening are:

- Hayley Wesson (Feeling Safe Together & Respect, Protect, Connect Program Coordinator for SECASA, Monash Health) &
- Lizzie Fox (coordinator of the Young Men’s Program at SECASA)

We encourage all parents to attend. The evening will take place in the Library and will run for approximately 90 minutes.

Please indicate your attendance by filling in the form below or booking via Try Booking - <https://www.trybooking.com/PJKF>

Kind Regards
Shelley Morrison

Raising children to be gender inclusive and to have respectful relationships

Children as young as three can start to show certain values about gender. Rigid belief systems about gender and gender stereotyping can have long-term effects on how both boys and girls feel they should behave, act and treat one another. These out-dated belief systems have been closely linked with abuse in our communities and households.

To ensure our children have the best chance at having healthy relationships it’s important that we model gender equality within our own families and communities.

This information session will cover how to change our language around gender, the negative effects of gender norms for both girls and boys and how gender stereotyping and inequality can contribute to abusive relationships.

“Gender Inclusiveness and Respectful Relationships” Evening

We / I will be attending the evening on Gender Inclusiveness and Respectful Relationships on Tuesday 2nd May at 7pm.
